PREFACE.

SUCCESSIVE GOVERNORS—Sir Hercules Robinson, Sir William Gregory, Sir Arthur Gordon, Sir West Ridgeway, Sir Henry Blake and Sir Henry McCallum, as well as the staff of the Colonial Office for the last forty-two years or more—have spoken in the highest terms of the usefulness of this Ceylon volume. The prefatory note may be brief, for the "CEYLON HANDBOOK AND DIRECTORY" is now so well-known and appreciated as to need no recommendation, nor to have its contents explained.

A large number of Statistics and information appearing in previous editions have been temporarily omitted, but their inclusion will be resumed as soon as conditions are normal again. They can always be referred to in past editions.

In respect of the DIRECTORY portion, very special pains have been taken to bring the information up to date and to present it in a reliable form. The official portion, viz., Public Establishments with details, we trust, will be found in good order and fullness. With the aid afforded by the Mercantile and Planting Community the Directory of Merchants, Traders, Companies, Factories, Plantations and connected Statistics, has been thoroughly revised—several thousands of circulars and personal letters for the needful information having been issued, received, collated and filed. The result should be an Edition with late and full information, although absolute accuracy (with changes so constantly occurring) is unattainable.

More particularly will attention be directed to the entries and figures indicative of the rise and spread of the RUBBER PLANTING INDUSTRY, which has made such marked strides in the Colony within the past eleven years. It was in 1883—at the request of the late Dr. Trimen of the Peradeniya Botanic Gardens—that the late Mr. J. Ferguson (founder of the "Ceylon Handbook and Directory,") first brought out a "Manual for Rubber Planters"; a second edition in 1887 and a third in 1890; but most of the copies went then to the Straits and Malay States. Now the books by Messrs. Herbert Wright, T. Petch, W. F. de Bois Maclaren and others supply the latest information. Writing in January, 1905, the Director of the Royal Botanic Gardens, Dr. J. C. Willis, after analysing the latest statistics in "Ferguson's Directory," expressed the opinion that it would probably not be far from the mark to regard the area of Rubber in Ceylon at that time as about 25,000 acres. We were, however, in July, 1905, able to shew—by the returns published in the Estates Directory—the total area covered could not then be less than the equivalent of 40,000 acres; and this figure was adopted by H. E. the Governor in his Opening Speech to the Legislative Council of that year.

Again in July, 1906, the returns obtained from all Districts shewed no fewer than 104,000 acres, as either planted or about to be planted during the monsoon season, with Rubber; while in August, 1907, the estate returns gave the equivalent altogether of 146,632 acres of Rubber, or, allowing for 3,400 acres in small native gardens, the round figure of 150,000 acres. In 1908, the total was given as 180,000 acres and in 1904 as 184,000 acres; but for both these years we thought it prudent to reduce the totals by 10,000 acres respectively, and so our estimate of acreage under Rubber in 1908 became 170,000 acres and 174,000 acres in 1909. For the middle of 1910, we arrived at 188,000 acres; at end of 1911, 215,000 acres; and in September, 1914, 240,500 acres, as a fair representation of the planted area.

Now for February, 1917, the returns sent to us from all the Planting Districts, checked by the information of Colombo Mercantile Agents and (or) responsible Inspectors of Estates, work out to a total of 251,000 acres of Rubber as planted, an increase of 10,500 acres on 1914. A good deal of this extent is interplanted in Tea throughout 47,056 acres while 13,601 acres of Cacao are also intermixed with Rubber; but it is clear that 251,000 acres may be safely taken to represent the land planted with Rubber in Ceylon at the present time. On plantations altogether 713,868 acres are cultivated out of 1,055,823 acres of total extent, with 1,676 Managers and Assistants; over half-a-million Tamil coolies and perhaps 150,000 Sinhalese, Malays, Moormen, &c.

Through the delay in publication we are enabled to embody Mercantile and Planting changes, and to bring our Estate Statistics up to middle of February, 1917, a great convenience to men of business since the volume is intended to be in every-day use through most of 1917.

For carefully compiled and full General Index, see the end of the volume.

In conclusion, we have to reiterate our hearty thanks to all who have rendered aid to the Compilers of the present Edition.

Do of Cinnamon rose from 650,000 lb. in 1850 to 6,501,040 in 1910; 5,228,531 lb. in 1913; and 5,012,896 lb. in 1916.

Do of Coconut Oil rose to 865,357 cwt. in 1903, from 551,000 cwt. in 1892 and 85,000 cwt. in 1850; but fell to 499,632 cwt. in 1904; rising to 594,821 cwt. in 1905; falling to 477,998 cwt. in 1907; rising to 670,121 cwt. in 1908, falling to 599,795 cwt. in 1909; rising to 619,680 cwt. in 1910; but falling to 323,017 cwt. in 1916.

Do of Plumbago rose from 23,000 cwt. in 1850 to 616,385 cwt. in 1895; fell to 478,860 cwt. in 1903; 515,752 cwt. in 1904; rising to 627,910 cwt. in 1905 and 703,666 cwt. in 1906; fell to 604,521 cwt. in 1907 and 525,095 cwt. in 1908; rising to 651,261 cwt. in 1912; again falling to 575,944 cwt. in 1913; but rising to 668,214 cwt. in 1916.

Total crop of Coconuts in one year equals to 1,000 to 1,200 millions apart from palms devoted to toddy and arrack. Nearly 2 million nuts are used locally for food by the natives every day.

Imports of Rice from India are annually about 14 million bushels worth 24,000,000 (one third for Estate Coolies, rest for towns and villages.)

Do of Cotton Goods from United Kingdom, about 2800,000 worth.

Very nearly 600,000 Tamil Coolies find work on Tea, Rubber, Cacao, and other Plantations; and a large number of Sinhalese are now helping on the Tea and Rubber Plantations in some parts, notably in the Kelani Vally, Kalutara and Galle Districts. More immigrant coolies are required.

THE PLANTING INDUSTRY OF CEYLON.

STATISTICAL POSITION AT MID-FEBRUARY, 1917, IN TEA,

409,500 acres under Tea

Before entering on the consideration of the Statistics before us, we think an explanation is unnecessary as to the later date for the publication of our "Handbook and Directory," in view of the unsettled times we have passed through since the beginning of the great European War, when our last edition was published.

We turn now to the detailed table which embodies the figures representing the present position of CEYLON'S PLANTING ENTERPRISE in the staples given in our heading. The main results are that at mid-February of 1917, there were 402,000 acres of TEA on the plantations entered in the Directory; and, with the allowance always made for small plots and native gardens, there must be a total in Ceylon of 409,500 acres of TEA—the same as it was nearly three years ago. This stagnation, it must be noted, is chiefly due to non-opening of fresh land. For RUBBER, however, we have 251,000 acres, an increase of 19,500 acres, after making allowance for what is intermixed with tea and cacao, and also allowance for some portions planted, but not reported in the plantation returns. This increase is chiefly due to a reduction in the "tea and rubber" and "cacao and rubber" areas. The detailed returns from all districts indicate no less than 47,056 acres of "tea and rubber" and 13,601 acres of "cacao and rubber," intermixed. In both cases, we have divided equally for the two products; but, in 1910, in the case of "tea and rubber," only one-third was (in the Directory review) credited to rubber and two-thirds to tea. This was afterwards corrected; but it may be a question with some authorities, and in certain districts, whether this proportion can always be maintained; for, although the present high prices encourage full attention to every tea-bush, it is also true that rubber, even at current prices, and with reasonable cost of production, must be still the more valuable product of the two. In any case, the detailed figures compiled for each district will enable those most interested to enter into an independent analysis, and arrive at their own conclusions, after the volume has reached their hands. Meantime, we consider that 251,000 acres of rubber may be accepted as a fair approximation for Ceylon at the present time. In his Speech to the Legislative Council in 1905, the Governor of the Colony quoted our figures for that year, as showing the wonderful advance of the new industry which had, at that time, expanded to 40,000 acres. But twelve months later, so keen had been the eagerness and anxiety to plant rubber, that our compilation in 1906 gave no less than 100,000 acres for all districts; and now, ten years later, more than double this area has to be faced. No large areas, however, have been opened in rubber during the past two years, nor is much further opening likely to be undertaken in the immediate future; and it seems as if we must be getting close to the maximum of Rubber Cultivation in Ceylon—at any rate with the Para (Hevea) variety. Yet, who can tell, looking at past experience? In 1872, for instance, when “coffee” was the staple (and the planter’s only product) 206,000 acres were supposed to be quite the full show for Ceylon plantations, and indeed the very maximum of coffee was reached with 275,000 acres in 1878. Who would have dreamed then, 38 years ago, that the new century, and almost its second decade, would show a grand total of 714,000 cultivated acres (in tea, rubber, cacao, cardamoms, &c.), spread over 1,909 plantations, aggregating 1,055,823 acres in their full extent, requiring 1,676 Managers or Superintendents and Assistants and giving employment to about 550,000 Tamil coolies, beside 150,000 or more Sinhalese, Moormen, Malays, &c., if all domestics, factorymen, watchers and carters resident in the planting districts are counted. An increase in the number of properties and of opened plantations as well as in total extent is a feature of the progress recorded in 1911-17; but there is a decrease of 446 in the number of planters, between September, 1914, and February, 1917, nearly all of them having gone to the front.

If we hark back to the comparatively subsidiary products we find that 10,296 acres are planted with CACAO alone; but there are 18,601 acres covered with rubber and cacao, making 23,897 acres altogether for cacao on plantations which, with the usual allowance for native gardens and wayside plantings, will raise the aggregate under the “chocolate” plant in the island to 23,150 acres—a reduction of 2,850 acres due to either tea or rubber displacing cacao or to canker. Then we have CARDAMOMS, planted to the extent of 7,000 acres (a decrease of 100 acres) and 250 of CAMPHOR or 90 acres less than the return in September, 1914, showing that Camphor clearings have been abandoned or replanted with more favoured products, tea probably. Poor old COFFEE is steadily vanishing from our sight; nevertheless, the 360 acres of the “Arabian” (or, more correctly speaking the “Abyssinian”) variety in September 1914, has now become 429; and the “Liberian” has increased from 89 to 155 acres; while there are 70 acres of new Coffee Robusta on Houpe Estate, Ratnapura; 40 acres on Dambala-ella estate, Kalutara; 50 acres on Nottingham Group, Kurunegala; 6 acres on Demelgolla, Kelani Valley; and 30 acres on Ellawala, Ambaganuwat.

The CINCHONA returns of our Ceylon Handbook and Directory have now disappeared, but still there was an export of 9,173 lb. last year. No doubt there must be patches here and there; but it is regarded by planters as not worth while to record an unproductive product, and five years ago “Cinchona bark” was excluded from the Chamber of Commerce export statement. What a contrast to the two seasons (1885-6 and 1886-7) during which Ceylon shipped very close on 30 million lb. of cinchona bark and helped to bring the price of quinine from 16s. to 1s. 6d. an ounce [1879-80.] Howard’s quinine was quoted wholesale 12s. per oz., and in 1888-9, it was 1s. 6d.—after Ceylon in 6 years had exported no less than 76 million lb. of bark! In 1898 Howard’s quinine was priced 1s. 2d. [A special boon was this reduction to India, Southern China, Africa and large parts of America where malaria and mosquitoes abound.] But now, to Cinchona in Ceylon, we have hidden farewell!

To conclude our review of our Directory returns, we may add some particulars to indicate the arrangement and information in the contents of our Statistical Statement put in tabular form. It contains a summary of the planted and total extent of land in private hands in each of

* This is an interesting experiment of the Ceylon Tea Plantation Company’s Houpe estate, of the Robusta Coffee 5½ years old so much thought of in Java; 25 acres must well be over and 50 acres rising 6 years; the future of it will be watched with care and interest.

+ Dambala-ella and Demelgolla Estates belongs to Mr. J. Matthias de Mel, J.P.; Dodanglalawa to Lieut.-Col. T. G. Jayawardana; Nottingham Group to the Hon. Dr. H. M. Fernando; and Ellawala to Mr. J. P. William.

AGRICULTURAL REVIEW:

FOR TEA—RUBBER—CACAO—CARDAMOMS—PALMS, RICE AND MINOR PRODUCTS.

(February, 1917.)

The first attempt to compile an Estate Directory and Plantation Statistics for Ceylon, was made early in 1863, when, 18 months after our late senior's arrival in this island, he was left in sole charge of the Observer Office, Mr. A. M. Ferguson being on his first holiday trip to Europe after an absence of well-nigh 26 years. Are there any of our readers who possess the red-covered, neat but thin volume entitled "Ferguson's Ceylon Directory and Handbook of Useful Information," for 1863? If so, they have a very interesting little book, whether from an historical, agricultural, or planting point of view. It contained the late Mr. Wm. Ferguson's first published list of "Ceylon Timber Trees" with the Sinhalese and Tamil as well as Botanical names, the first Essays on Gardening in Ceylon, and other special Papers of some interest. Henceforward our late senior became personally responsible for each successive volume; but we need only mention that of 1869, which, for the first time, gave the cultivated (coffee) acreage as well as the total extent of each plantation. To make sure of this information he, specially in that year (1869) and from that time onwards, for a score of years, visited, year by year, nearly every district in the island between Matale and the Morawak-korale and Kelani Valley and Madulsima.

It was, however, in 1877 that he first attempted an elaborate "Review of the Agricultural and Planting Industries of Ceylon" and this was carried on and carefully revised with such Statistics (for the world at large) of our staple products as could be found in what was then our monthly Tropical Agriculturist and every other available source, in 1881, 1883, 1885, 1888, 1890, 1891, 1893, 1895, 1898, 1901 and then in 1903. This last review—over 13 years ago—dealt fully with tea, cacao, cardamoms, rubber, cinchona, coffee, camphor, vanilla, croton, cotton, tobacco, pepper, cinnamon, sugar, coconut and palmyra palm, as well as rice and other food grains, fruit and timber trees, fibres, gums, silk, etc. We may safely say that for all products ever grown, or attempted to be cultivated, in Ceylon, the necessary historical and statistical information will be found in these reviews; and now that so much is made of promoting "new" industries in cotton, fibre plants, tobacco, silkworms, etc., it would be well for all concerned to study what has been done already in this Colony, and to profit by the lessons—often the blunders—of the past. We have no intention of reproducing our elaborate, full Agricultural Review in a revised form at the present time. It is available and is of permanent value, for reference, in any of the volumes we have detailed above, the latest being, of course, the most reliable.

This year, as on the last nine occasions—in 1905, 1906, 1907, 1908, 1909, 1910, 1911, 1913 and 1914—we deal, in the first place, with the staples included in our Estate Returns as detailed in the big table, given on page 11.

From the foregoing table we compile the equivalent acreage for each product by making as fair an allowance as we possibly can, where products are intermixed, and by allowing 150 Rubber trees as the equivalent of an acre where number of "trees" have been returned rather than acres.—

	Acres.
Total area of 2,235 plantations and planting properties ..	1,055,823

For the reasons stated in our footnotes the actual equivalent acreage now under tea, rubber and cacao must be given as follows:—Tea 409,500 acres; Rubber 251,000, Cacao 23,150 acres.

THE CEYLON PLANTING ENTERPRISE may now be summed up for February, 1917, as follows, and the comparison with September, 1914—when our last review was undertaken—stands thus:—

Product.	Sept., 1914.	Feb., 1917.	Decrease:
Tea ..	409,500	409,500	—

No. of plantations (cultivated)	1,883	1,909	26 inc.
No. of Superintendents and Assistants ..	2,122	1,676	446 dec

<sup>a</sup> This decrease is principally due to several purely Coconut estates in the Lowcountry having been transferred to the Coconut Estate List.

<sup>b</sup> This is apart from perhaps 7,500 acres in native tea gardens of small extent. So that the grand total under tea in Ceylon in February, 1917, must be about 409,500 acres; but, while we have credited to tea only one-half of the acreage (47,056) of "tea and rubber" mixed, much of it, while the rubber is young, yields as freely as on unmixcd fields; while, when the rubber trees mature, it has been proved that the tea is much affected, and possibly, the poorer (leaf) product will soon be abandoned altogether, if rubber keeps up in price. One experienced planter gives the tea 10 years of life.

<sup>c</sup> Apart from 6,000 acres, say, in native gardens—giving a total of about 23,150.

<sup>f</sup> Only 245 acres are returned by planters; but many have only trees on boundaries and roads, and latterly less attention has been given to Camphor.

<sup>g</sup> Including 70 acres of Coffee Robusta on Houpe Estate, Ratnapura; 40 acres mixed with Rubber and Coconuts on Dambalaelia, Kalutara; 50 acres mixed with Rubber and Coconuts on Nottingham Group, Kurunegala; and 6 acres on Demselgolla, Kelani Valley.

As regards Estimates of Crop, here are the figures and results:—

The area under tea, it will be observed, has for some years remained practically stationary, and had to be reduced when full allowance was made for rubber interplanted, in 1910-14; and when further allowance is made later on for the interplanted rubber over 47,056 acres, there must be another lessening of the tea area and of tea crops to some extent. Nevertheless, there is a reduction in the "tea and rubber" area this time, by about 16,000 acres, which is chiefly due to the two products being more correctly shown in returns. Still there have been not a few new tea clearings up-country and in the lowcountry, of late, and some further extensive planting of tea is contemplated, we believe.

* During those years tea was not properly plucked or pruned in Ceylon.

† This is the return of the Chamber of Commerce which has altered the commercial year now to the calendar one, but whose export figures will always differ slightly from the Customs returns; because the Chamber only enters exports as vessels leave, while the Customs records the daily shipments to loading vessels.

‡ An approximate average might be got by taking the mean of the two sets of figures in this column. In India, the average is about 350 lb. per acre from mature trees. In Ceylon it is over 400 lb.

§ Including green tea each year from 1901 to 1916.

Next comes CACAO—which though introduced into Ceylon early in the present century, only dates in systematic cultivation from 1872 and only 500 acres were planted up to 1877-78; but by December 1883, this had increased to 10,000 acres and to 13,800 acres by 1892. After this, more planting took place, and by 1900, the area had nearly doubled, and native gardens extended until 9,000 acres were thus covered. Of late years, however, through discouragement from canker and careless cultivation, the native area contracted somewhat; but canker has been fought and conquered on most regular plantations and the "Pests Ordinance" now ensures attention all round. Here is the Customs record of exports:—

Including native gardens, we put Cacao in Ceylon as covering 23,150 acres.

COFFEE has become of so small account in Ceylon that we need do no more than refer to the year 1875 when 873,654 cwt. of plantation and 114,674 cwt. native coffee were exported from Ceylon (988,328 cwt. in all)—or better still to 1870 which gave a total of 1,013,904 cwt. of both kinds, the 885,728 cwt. of "plantation" being gathered from 160,000 acres in full bearing and 25,000 young coffee. Now there are but 770 acres under Coffee (including small gardens)—584 under Arabian and Liberian and 186 acres under Coffee Robusta. The export for 1916, of both kinds, was only 30 cwt. according to Customs accounts; the Chamber of Commerce does not give coffee now.

Of CINCHONA, beginning with trifling packages of bark exported in 1869-1871, we ran up to over 1 million lb. in 1880 when quinine was 12s. an ounce, and on to 14,673,000 lb. in 1886 (maximum) and price of quinine 2s. 8d. with a gradual descent to 2,497,616 lb. in 1894 (price 1s. 3d.) and now the export was only 9,173 lb., against 98,754 lb. for 1910, 85,499 lb. for 1911, 111,918 lb. for 1912, 32,821 lb. for 1913, 4,141 lb. for 1914, 20,393 lb. for 1915, and 9,173 lb. for 1916, by the Customs, the Chamber of Commerce giving no figures now; while the area planted has dwindled from 64,000 acres in 1883 to the equivalent of 3 acres at the present time!

RUBBER.

THE EQUIVALENT OF 251,000 ACRES OF RUBBER PLANTED IN CEYLON.

FEBRUARY, 1917.

The RUBBER PLANTING INDUSTRY—the growth of plants producing the India-rubber of commerce—is by far the most interesting branch dealt with in our Returns and Tables on the present as on the six last occasions. Seeds of Para Rubber were first brought to Kew in 1876; thence came several Wardian cases for Henaratgoda Gardens in August of that year—so that the oldest trees there now are 40 years of age, and great big trees they have become. At first planters did very little with either the Brazil-Para (Hevea), or Mexican (Castilloa, when it came) rubbers, confining their attention chiefly to the hardy Ceara (Manihot glaziovii), seeds of which were freely imported; and this tree was expected to occupy some 35,000 acres of abandoned estate land, covered with lantana, below 3,000 feet. The Ceara plant grew with amazing rapidity (2 feet per month!) and in 1885, a tree 8 years old (14 inches diameter) which had to be cut down at Peradeniya, yielded 1½ lb. dry rubber, although it had been thoroughly drained of latex in 1882. But though, if this rubber industry had been persevered with*—more especially, if Ceylon planters had taken then to Para kinds, it would have proved very profitable; yet when tea was found a decided success, with only 3 years to wait against 6 for rubber, the great leaf staple speedily (in the “eighties” and “nineties”) absorbed all attention. And, of course, the price offered for rubber in the “eighties” was not nearly so good as in recent years. Indeed the great demand—for the tyres of motors especially, and for electric works—had then to arise; and so, very little was done with any of the species of rubber by Ceylon planters,—except by a fortunate few, chiefly in the Kalutara District—until the prices of tea fell so grievously some nine and ten years ago when, in the Kalutara and Kelani Valley districts especially, rubber began to be planted among the tea. And yet so early as 1888, at Dr. Trimen's suggestion, we compiled, and published from the “Observer” Press, a Planters' Manual, “All about India-Rubber and Guttapercha” (which freely sold in Malaya, no fewer than 3 editions following, 1890-1900)† and the late Dr. Trimen at the time strongly urged the cultivation in Ceylon, reporting latex harvestings up to 1½ lb. per tree at Henaratgoda, increased to 2 lb. 10 ounces in 1890 and up to 3½ lb. in 1894. In 1891 the Forest Department began planting rubber; and had the Ceylon Government persevered and covered some thousands of acres, the work would have been a very commendable and profitable one. Dr. Trimen, at that time, did not think rubber trees should be tapped under 10 years; but it has since been found this can be done after 5 or 6 years, in some cases, according to soil and location.‡ Dr. Willis

* When everybody else had given up attention to Ceara, Mr. Vollar in Dumbura used to find work for picked coolies by tapping and collecting Ceara latex and a man could always bring in value to double cost of his labour.

† The fullest and most reliable book now is “Hevea Brasiliensis” or Para Rubber its botany, cultivation, chemistry and diseases by Herbert Wright, A.R.C.S., F.L.S., 4th edition, with numerous plates and diagrams. Colombo: A. M. & J. Fernando; London: MacLaren & Sons, 1908.”

at first thought that not more than 10,000 acres of land would be found suitable for, and planted with Para Rubber in, Ceylon. But it has been seen since that it will grow over a much wider range,* nor is there much fear now as to prices falling through artificial rubber substitutes coming into use, although there are bound to be fluctuations in the market, as production increases, especially if the demand does not increase by the 10 (or more) per cent. annually which was once considered a safe estimate. Of course, the cheaper the price, the more extended will uses be found for rubber, until much paving, especially around hospitals, nursing and invalid homes, hotels, etc., will be adopted. The financial crisis in America upset the rubber market early in 1908, but it has improved since then, although the "boom" which prevailed some time back (1910-11) has disappeared; but the condition and prospects of the rubber market in Europe and America at the beginning of 1917 are fairly satisfactory.

CEYLON PLANTING was represented by an estimate of 750 acres in March, 1898; and by May, 1901, we estimated 2,500 acres; while the return to the middle of 1904 gave an equivalent of 11,000 acres. Planting then went on very rapidly from July 1904 to July 1905, but the great rush came in the following two-and-a-half years, 1905-1907. Writing in January 1905 in his Annual Report, Dr. Willis estimated the total area covered by rubber-yielding trees of all species in Ceylon at 25,000 acres. Six months later our estate returns worked out to an equivalent of 39,383 acres; but the area returned in July 1906 became no less than 103,766 acres! (In January 1907, Dr. Willis' estimated 115,000 acres in rubber: we found 120,000.) The year July 1906 to August 1907 added to our estate returns over 45,000 acres for all the districts, and the figures worked out, as far as could be discriminated, to the equivalent altogether of 146,632 acres; while in July 1908 they worked out to an equivalent of 176,266 acres. In August 1910, it was found rubber spread over 238,822 acres, but over 96,000 acres of this, tea and cacao predominated and so we arrived at 182,275 acres as the equivalent extent in plantations. Then to this we added 5,000 acres more for rubber in small native gardens (large ones are in our returns)—so making the total in round figures 188,000 acres. This shewed an addition of 3,000 acres in the year, taking the previous year's total at 183,000 acres; in arriving, however, at these figures we had been crediting to rubber half the area under "tea and rubber" mixed, but this we then considered too high a proportion so only credited one-third, and made the comparison 188,000 acres in 1910 against 174,000 acres in 1909—showing an increase of 14,000 acres within the year. But in Oct., 1910, we saw good reason to return to our previous ratio between the tea or cacao planted with rubber trees and to give an equal proportion to each of the total acreage and this made 203,520 acres of rubber  $1\frac{1}{2}$  year ago. [For a letter and comments on this point we may refer to a previous page XII.] In September, 1914, our enquiry after allowances made about rubber intermixed with tea and cacao, shewed a total of 240,500 as the proper equivalent for cultivated Rubber in Ceylon, the same as for 1913 there having been practically no new clearings during the current year; but now February, 1917, we find the total acreage under Rubber at 251,000—an increase of 10,500 acres during the past twenty-nine months. A fuller allowance has had to be made than before, for smaller native gardens.

We may repeat here the remarks of a practical planter sent to us some years ago, but which have a bearing on the mode in which the mixed products have been treated occasionally:—

"So far as my experience goes, planters have generally given up planting rubber through the tea; but a good deal more has been done along

* In May 1903, Para Rubber was reported to be flourishing at over 3,000 feet in Ceylon, and in 1905 trees were tapped in Passara Dist. i. e., Uva, up to 2,600 feet; while another Uva Planter reported flourishing trees at over 3,700 feet. At over 2,000 feet in districts North of Kandy, good results are reported. In Balangoda trees are growing at 3,000 feet, though wind is a drawback in that district. Young plants are doing well in Lower Dimbula up to 4,000 feet; but whether they will mature and yield latex profitably has yet to be proved.

roads, ravines, and ridges, in the tea fields. In very old tea, or where it is poor, the stumps and plants hang fire for two years and then start growing freely after pruning and manuring the tea."

For the statistics of local export of rubber, according to Customs accounts, we quote as follows:—

[Rubber seeds were exported chiefly to U.K., India, Burma, and Sumatra.]

It is of interest to note the leading Rubber-growing Districts in Ceylon in their order, according to acreage in Rubber alone:—Kelani Valley, Kalutara, Ratnapura, Kegalla, Galle, Kurunegala, Matale North, Matale West, Matale East, Haputale, Monaragala, Galagedara, Matale South,

* The return published gave 417,661 lb., but it was afterwards shewn that 90,837 lb. of this came from Malay States and farther East, leaving 327,024 lb. for "Ceylon Rubber." The figures from that year onward are supposed to be for local produce of Ceylon; but of late, doubts had been felt about some of the imported rubber being included in Ceylon exports—and the Chamber of Commerce returns now separate the imports, enabling the necessary deduction from exports.

Kadugannawa, Passara, Badulla, Alagala, Madulsima, Nilambe, Ambagamuwa, Morawak Korale, Rakwana, Dumbara, Dolosbage and Pussellawa.

The highest prices ever paid for Ceylon Rubber in the London and Colombo markets were 12s. 8d. (for Moegama Estate smoked sheet and or biscuits on April 19th, 1910) and Rs. 9.50 cts. (April 14, 1910) respectively. Some of our planting districts like Matale, Passara, Madulsima and Monaragala look like a chess-board, tea or cacao checked with rubber; while Kelani Valley (tea only one-third the area of rubber), Kalutara (tea not one-sixth the area of rubber), Monaragala (with only 363 acres of tea and rubber, against 3,100 acres of rubber alone), Ratnapura, Pelmadulla, Kogalla, Galle and part of Kurunegala are fast becoming rubber-growing districts more than anything else. There have been great additions, too, in other directions, in Dumbara, Kadugannawa, Wategama, Nilambe, Rakwana, Pussellawa, Badulla, Lower Haputale, &c. A full-grown Para rubber tree is usually about 70 feet high; but in the Singapore Botanic Gardens, a tree 14 years old is over 100 feet high and 72 inches in girth at 3 feet from the ground. Another tree of over 30 years measures 122½ inches in girth at 3 feet up.

For yields of trees in Malaya and Ceylon, we may give here an estimate given in the "Straits Times" some time ago:—

Age of trees.	Yield per single	Yield per acre of	[Very much more than the safe estimates for Ceylon.]
Years.	tree.	120 trees.
4	3 lb.	90 lb.	}
5	...	...
6	...	...
7	...	...
8	...	...
9	...	...
10	...	...

The estimate is for estates on good average soil, under competent European management where all that is possible is done to work for safe, immediate and assured future results. Some will say that more should be put down for the ages 4, 5, 6 and 7, and less for older trees. We do not think so. More may be got from the young trees, but it is at the risk of injuring them unless the conditions are quite abnormally favourable. After the seventh year trees which have been tapped moderately and with care should be strong, and capable of responding to calls for a larger yield. We fix the number of trees at 120 per acre because we are convinced that where the number is larger the yield per tree will be proportionately less. One of the dangers to young plantations is that the trees may be excessively tapped, while rubber prices are high, on the principle of "making hay while the sun shines." A good many estates, especially those laid out by Chinese owners, are too closely planted, and we must not overlook this. Generally yield per acre on the 120 tree basis is a safer guide than yield per tree. On most well-managed estates, collection, onring, etc., can be done at a cost of 1s per lb. But there are incidental expenses, losses, etc., to be met, and a probability of labour becoming more expensive. The cautious investor, therefore, should take 1s 3d as a fair average cost figure before counting profits on output.—Ed., S. T. (It must be remembered that this was written in July 1910: for later experience, see later on.)

Total	...	...	...

A well-known authority with Ceylon experience, much interested in rubber, giving his information some years ago, had a very inadequate idea of how the exports from the East were to rise. He estimated about 3,520 tons for plantation rubber from Asia in 1910, and 5,800 tons for 1911 and 7,820 tons for 1912; but in 1911 the total from Malaya and Ceylon alone came to 11,897 tons, in 1912 to 22,200 tons, and in 1913 to 35,961 tons. The late Mr. Carruthers was nearer the mark when he (for 1911) expected that Malaya would produce from 5,475 to 8,213 tons, reckoning on 1 lb. or 1½ lb. yield per tree. Sir J. Anderson, then Governor of the Straits and F.M.S., said in 1910 about the prospect (of 1916):—"There was at present enough land under rubber in the country (Malaya) to turn out 70,000 tons four (six) years hence. He urged planters to cultivate what land they had, and give up grabbing more." The exports in 1911 were equal to 19,695,330 lb. (for F.M.S. alone) or 8,703 tons; in 1912 to 34,718,015 lb. or 15,500 tons and in 1913 to 23,464 tons.

The following is a detailed table of exports from 1912:—

Year	Exports (tons)	Exports (lb.)
1912	22,200	10,000,000
1913	35,961	16,000,000
1914	5,318,379	24,000,000
1915	7,898,984	35,000,000
1916	62,761.63	28,000,000

There were also exported from Malacca 5,318,379 lb. in 1914 and 7,898,984 lb. in 1915 and 7,167,306 lb. in 1906.

The rubber exports for 1916 from F.M.S. were 62,761.63 tons compared with 44,523.69 tons in 1915, the values declared being 147,593,423 dollars and 93,405,987 dollars respectively.

A local authority lately estimated 220,000 acres as maximum area to be planted with rubber in Ceylon and that, with 140 trees to the acre average, and 1½ lb. yield per tree per annum, this will give an export of 20,000 tons by 1920; while the Malay States would then give 40,000 tons; Java, Sumatra, Borneo 15,000 tons—total of 75,000 tons. (But this total has already been exceeded by 1916.) This takes no account of Southern India where, in Travancore, Malabar, and Cochin especially, extensive plantations have been opened; so that nearly 80,000 acres is now (February 1917) taken as planted in India and Burmah. We certainly think at present (February 1917) with the large area covered with Rubber in Ceylon, the Malay Peninsula, Southern India, Java, Sumatra, Borneo, &c., that the time has come to cry halt to further would-be planters and speculators.

The chances, it seems to us, are of smaller collections of South American and African rubber, owing to the prices falling below the profitable margin, and so leading to a decrease thence in rubber shipments, rather than of Ceylon and Far Eastern plantations going out of cultivation through the price of rubber falling too low.*

* Dr. J. Huber, Director of the Goldi Museum and Botanical Garden at Para (Brazil) says:—"Hitherto the Amazon country had produced the bulk of Rubber, but in a few years the production of the plantations of the East would far exceed the production of the Amazon Valley, which was more or less stationary. It is realised that with the low cost of production of plantation rubber and the great output it will be difficult for the Amazon Valley to compete with the plantations in the East. The situation can only be met by lowering the cost of production, and I think it will be found difficult to reduce the cost to the necessary extent. The export duties are very high at present and a reduction in that direction is necessary to meet the situation."

RUBBER MARKET REPORT FOR 1916.

[By MESSRS GOW, WILSON &amp; STANTON, LTD.]

13 & 23, Rood Lane, London E.C.—Business in 1916 has been carried on under the emergency conditions introduced early in 1915. Generally speaking the produce has reached consumers with wonderful regularity and freedom. Occasionally permits to ship to neutral countries have been difficult to obtain, but it is hoped that the experience gained during the last two years may lead to a simplification of the present system, and in any attempt in this direction the Government are certain of having the hearty support of all branches of the Industry. Tonnage is another factor that has been much to the fore during the last few months of the year—in the earlier months the fears referred to in our last circular did not materialise, but certainly at the close of this year "tonnage" is the most important question before the Trade. The value of the exports of Plantation Rubber to the United States of America during the year must be in the neighbourhood of £25,000,000, and the level of American Exchange is thus influenced to no small extent to the benefit of this country.

The world's output has increased by some 44,500 tons (say 48 per cent.) It should be noted that the supplies from Brazil and Other Countries show a slight decrease, the total increase being entirely due to the additional output from the East, which has risen about 42 per cent as compared with 1915. The wonderful prosperity of the United States of America and the World War are without doubt the main reasons for the expansion in demand which has kept pace with supplies.

The year opened with prices at a very high level as a result of the bear squeeze which began in November, 1915, and culminated on 6th January, 1916, when the price touched 4s. 3½d. By 31st January quotations had fallen no less than 17 pence and the rise to 3s. 9d in Feb was due to a short account which then came to light in New York. So soon as it was known that this account had been taken over the market price fell steadily, and between 1st July and 31st October prices fluctuated between narrow limits (viz., 4 pence per lb.) Early in November a strong demand for delivery over next year was experienced, and with producers proving to be reserved sellers' prices rose. The rise was undoubtedly aided by speculators who came in possibly anticipating a recurrence of the phenomenal rise of the previous year. A halt has since been called; during the second week of December profit-snatching by speculators caused sellers to predominate in the market, and spot supplies prove fully adequate to meet the immediate requirements of the market.

PRODUCTION.—In spite of the shortage of Assistants on the estates a vastly increased crop has been gathered, and for this the trade realises its great indebtedness to the men on the spot. Notwithstanding insufficient European supervision we think the grades other than the standard qualities might be more carefully prepared and packed. There can be no insuperable difficulty in eliminating the presence of cotton from the lower grades of crepe. There is also a tendency to pack too much in a case; this fault is no doubt brought about by a striving after economy, but it is a bad policy. Arrival at market "massed" means a depreciation in value of at least 14d. per lb., with the result that the estates lose money every time.

Messrs Lewis & Peat reckon the production of Plantation Rubber from all countries during 1916 at about 150,000 tons, against 96,000 tons in 1915 and 61,500 in 1914—the average price realised for standard quality being about 2s 10½d per lb. in 1916, against 2s 6½d in 1915 and 2s 4½d in 1914. The world's production of all sorts is put at about 202,000 tons against 146,000 tons in 1915, the increase being almost entirely Plantation grown. The production of Plantation Rubber for 1917 is estimated at 200,000 tons by Messrs. Lewis & Peat, who say that consumption has practically equaled production and prospects are generally good.

INFLUENCE OF THE CEYLON PLANTING ENTERPRISE ON THE RISE AND PROGRESS OF THE COLONY: ON THE CONDITION OF THE NATIVES (SINHALESE AND TAMILS) ON THE REVENUE; AND ON THE FOOD SUPPLY OF THE COUNTRY.

From the year which is usually taken to represent the commencement of the Coffee Enterprise in Ceylon, namely 1837, to the end of 1916, we calculate that very nearly seventy-three millions of pounds sterling (say about  $\text{R}1,095,000,000$ ) have been paid in wages to Immigrant Coolies from Southern India, apart from the very considerable amount given to Kandyan wood-cutters, Sinhalese labourers in certain districts, carpenters and other artisans, cartmen, &c., and indirectly to the mill and store employees in Colombo, the women and children who pick and the men who prepare and pack, as well as those who transport and ship our several staples, in tea, cacao, rubber, cardamoms, bark, &c. We are probably on the safe side in saying that from seventy-nine to eighty million<sup>o</sup> sterling may be taken as an approximation to the total amount of British capital introduced into Ceylon in connection with coffee, tea, cacao, rubber and other planting products, while our export returns show an export of "Plantation coffee" in the same period of over 23 million cwt., valued by the Customs at over 70 millions sterling, but really worth a good deal more, and of tea nearly 4,013 millions lb. worth nearly 133 millions sterling. Beside this, there are the other plantation products (cocoa, cardamoms, rubber, cinchona bark, &c.) and there then remains the value of property made by all this capital on the Island probably making up the difference; but our figures cannot be taken for more than they are worth as approximations, although there can be no doubt of the enormous amount of British capital lost in Ceylon in the early days of coffee planting—lost to the owners but picked up by the coolies and settled inhabitants of the island who have benefited all along to an amazing extent whether the pursuit was remunerative to the European capitalist and planter or not.\* All observers, who are acquainted with the history of planting

* A planter introduces into regions all but unknown to man a host of contractors who bring again in their trains a number of pedlars, tavern keepers and others eager to profit by the expenditure about to take place. To the Contractors succeed the Malabar Coolies, the working base of the Colony, who plant and cultivate Coffee and at a subsequent period reap the crop. Each of these coolies consumes monthly a bushel of imported rice, a quantity of salt and other condiments and occasionally cloth, arrack, &c. The import, purchase and transport of which find employment for the merchant, the retail dealer, the carrier and their servant, and again the wants of these functionaries raise around them a race of shop-keepers, domestic and others, who, but for the success of coffee-planting, would have been unable to find equally profitable employment. Nor are the results bounded by the limits of the Colony. The import of articles consumed on the Coffee Estates and by those dependent on them, gives employment to hundreds of seamen, and to thousands of tons of shipping that but for this increased trade would never have been built. The increased demand for rice stimulates and cheers the tail of the Indian ryot, the increased demand for clothing stimulates the Manchester spinners and weavers and all dependent on them, and the increased demand for the implements of labour stimulates the manufacturers of Birmingham and Sheffield and their dependents. Who shall say where the links of the chain terminate, affecting as they do directly or indirectly all the great branches of the human family? Then again, when the estate becomes productive, how many of the foregoing agencies are again called into operation? On arrival in Colombo the parchment coffee is usually peeled, winnowed, and sized, by powerful steam machinery (a new agency which gives employment to engineers, mill-stores, wood-cutters, &c.) and is afterwards picked by hand, a laborious operation, which gives occupation to thousands of the industrious poor, and enable them to support an expenditure for food, clothing and other necessaries, the supply of which again furnishes profitable employment to the shopkeeper, merchant, seaman, &c. In fact it is impossible to pursue into all their ramifications the benefits derivable from the cultivation of the fragrant berry which has become the staple product of Ceylon. But we think enough has been said to make good the position with which we started, viz. that the rise and progress of coffee planting is the most remarkable phenomenon that Ceylon has yet witnessed. Other results too, there are, moral ones such as much sooner or later arise from the infusion of Anglo-Saxon spirit and energy among an Eastern people, from the spread of the English language, and what is of more important still, the spread of civilisation and Christianity. Ceylon Miscellany, 1855. (Tea requires much more machinery and larger factories on soil less than coffee ever did; and rubber also has its inventing tools and preparing machinery.—COMPLETER) in this island and of the migration of coolies hither, know that on the whole the relations between planters and coolies have been satisfactory and that the coolies have benefited during the past seventy seven years in coming to and going from Ceylon, in a way which they could not possibly have done by confining their labour to their own country. It has been published on the authority of the Madras Government that "out of about 35 millions of human beings in Southern India, it appears there are 16 millions, or not far from one-half of the whole, whose annual earnings, counting grain, &c., at their full money value, do not average more for a family than £3 12s per annum—that is 6s per month; 1s 6d a week; a little over 2½d a day. The average number in a family being five, the daily allowance for each, to supply food, shelter and clothing, is one halfpenny." English readers—who have been accustomed to mourn over the lot of the Dorsetshire labourer, with his 7s a week and extras—may well hold up their hands in astonishment. But should they travel in our planting districts, they will soon readily understand how Ceylon is a comparative paradise to the coolies of Tinnevely, Tanjore and Madura.* Notwithstanding the very satisfactory feature of nearly every old plantation having now a certain proportion of settled cooly population, men, women and children, born and brought up on the place (and this valuable nucleus is increasing year by year, especially where children are looked after), yet the old full demand for coolies with advances, &c., has revived and, through Labour agencies, with greatly improved sanitary arrangements, arrivals must greatly increase to meet the requirements of rubber as well as tea, &c. In Ceylon, the average cooly is exceedingly well off compared with his condition at home and, indeed, compared with the average condition of the lowcountry Sinhalese peasant or agricultural labourer. Nor is the cooly the helpless creature in respect to his rights that a European, stranger and visitor, might suppose; he is a strong, almost irrational, conservative, and would rather work for less, under a system to which he has been accustomed, than for a higher wage after a novel fashion. On the plantations the coolies, as a rule, are well housed, and are allowed vegetable and fruit (plantain) gardens, and in many cases have their stock of poultry, rabbits, goats or pigs with pasture for the same; and, whatever the difficulty in getting money, their rice is always sure and in such quantity as generally permits of curry-stuffs being provided out of a surplus. They have medical comforts and attendance when ill, at the expense of the plantations. They are free to come and go as monthly servants; making allowance for exceptional cases and for the recent severely trying hard times for the planter with the unusual dearth of rice, few of the labouring classes in the world are better off than the coolies coming from Southern India to work on the plantations of Ceylon. The coolies in the early pioneering days also suffered; but from 1850 to 1890, they may be said to have had a long and almost unbroken period of thirty years' prosperity, and again from 1888 onwards. It must be remembered, too, in connection with the issuing of rice at a fixed price, that if the profit has sometimes been on the side of the planter, in other years, planters have had to bear a heavy loss, as has been experienced during 1906-14, to a great extent. Rice has in some years been at famine prices. Planters have been known to exchange their coffee—bushel for bushel—for rice, to keep their coolies alive; and before the railway days, the cooly, as a rule, was the gainer by the system, rather than his employer. There can be no doubt that when planting no longer as a rule paid—in the failure of coffee when the price of tea fell, the proper way would have been to reduce the wages of coolies—men, women and children—all round—to what they were forty or fifty years ago, charging the rice exactly at what it cost; but it is not too much to suppose

* It is gratifying to be assured by a German Missionary, settled for thirty years in and about Madura, that the Hindoos in that district, at all events, thoroughly appreciate and confide in the justice of British administrators, and are much better off than they were when he first came to those parts. Their ambition is to become possessed of a piece of land, and with this view they cross over to Ceylon and work on the plantations of the island, hoarding their wages until they have saved enough to gratify the dream of their life. The desire is natural, though unhappily it tends to intensify the evil from which India has long been suffering. There can be no surer source of national poverty than a peasant-proprietary, where no limits are assigned to the subdivision of property, and when the population consequently increases without check or hindrance. "By the Hindu Law of sub-division among male children, an estate of a hundred acres held by one man may be reduced in three generations to holdings of three-fourths of an acre each." In this way the land is speedily exhausted, for its pauper proprietors cannot pay for artificial irrigation, nor are they able to keep cows or bullocks whence to obtain a supply of manure, whether in the form of dung or of ashes.—English Journal.

that the cooly, being what he is, would probably refuse to work under so revolutionary a change, and would much prefer the employers who stuck to the old system. Again, it is most satisfactory to know that all through the last period of distress—that is from 1880 to 1890,—the coolies as a whole were able to carry on and make remittances of money to their relatives in Southern India. Now (1917) with the extensive and generally prosperous Tea industry, with a highly satisfactory and fast developing great Rubber industry, there is full employment before the coolies, if only a sufficient number come over to Ceylon,—cholera and plague in India and consequent quarantine in Colombo being occasional hindrances. A certain and increasing number of Sinhalese are now regularly working on the plantations, especially in the Western and Uva Provinces; but Tamil coolies must continue to be the mainstay of tea planters; and the Mannar Branch Line and Steam Ferry (and later the Indo-Ceylon Railway complete throughout) will undoubtedly facilitate immigration and save health and time.

Of the European planting pioneers—that is, those engaged between 1836 and 1850 and even up to 1870—it was calculated by the late Mr. R. B. Tytler (the father of our planting enterprise) and the late Mr. Arthur Sinclair, an experienced planter and inspector of estates, that not more than 10 per cent bettered themselves by coming to Ceylon. Of the rest many lost large sums of money, or lost their health or their lives in the struggle. It is not exactly correct to speak of "the graves of many a British sovereign" on the Kandyan hill-sides, for these sovereigns have not been buried and left lying idle, but have gone to benefit thousands of cooly homes in Southern India, as well as the homes of many a Kandyan and many a low-country Sinhalese artisan and cartman labourer in Ceylon. Of course a great number of natives have embarked in planting on their own account: it is quite certain that, under the stimulus of European example and capital, native gardens have been greatly extended, while about 300 Sinhalese, about 50 Chetties, some 35 Moors and Malays, 4 Parsees, 50 Burghers and 75 Tamils, own regular plantations in tea, cacao, coffee, &c., aggregating 120,000 acres of land, of which about 70,000 are cultivated.

Our calculation is, that, from each acre of tea, rubber, or cacao land opened here, five native men, women and children (of Ceylon or Southern India) directly or indirectly derive their means of subsistence. In other words, about 3 millions including Tamils (either in Ceylon or India) as well as Sinhalese or other races, are mainly dependent on the Planting Enterprise of Ceylon, apart from what it does for our European and Enrasian population.

The material change in the Central Province and the planting districts within the last seventy years has been marvellous. Villages and towns have appeared where all was barren, waste or thick jungle. Not only has cultivation taken the place of jungle and roads been cut in all directions, but prosperous villages (Ambagamuwa, Kotmale, Craigie Lea, St. Clair, Lindula, Agras, Dikoya, Makkeliya) have sprung up like magic in "the Wilderness of the Peak." Gampola, Badulla, Matale, and Ratnapura, which each consisted of a resthouse and a few huts, and Nawalapitiya, which had no existence at all in 1841, are now populous towns; while Nalanda, Rattota, Panwila, Teldeniya, Madulkele, Daltota, Haldumulla, Bandarawela, Balangoda, Lunugala, Passara, Lemastota, Walimada, Rakkwana, Yatiyantota, Kitulgala, Auwawella, Ruauwella, Neboda, Wategama, Deniyaya, &c., have all come into existence in the planting era, and are—some of them, at least—already more than villages. Some of the planting grant-in-aid roads, carried through what was dense forest or waste land twenty to forty years ago, are now lined for miles together with native houses and boutiques and also with native cultivation in gardens or fields. The railway from Colombo to Kandy, which would not have been made in the 19th century, save for the planting enterprise, has wrought a great change, and the extensions to Matale and Nannuoya and on to Bandarawela also show progress, each upcountry station becoming the nucleus of a small town; the same may be anticipated for the Udapussellawa, the Kelani, Ratnapura and Pelmadulla, and especially, for the Badulla and Chilaw-Pattalam lines when they come. Gradually, too, the Northern Railway will do its work, too, in long sections of country at present thinly populated.

Of the influence of the Planting Enterprise on the island revenue a great deal might be said, but we may content ourselves with appending the following table, which is more eloquent than any words: we have added

This is not a political nor a social review: but we cannot help referring more generally to the benefits conferred on the Ceylonese people through the British rule in this island; for, indeed, most of the benefits have been realised within the planting era. We quote for our purpose the eloquent words of an impartial witness, one who was neither a planter nor merchant, neither a politician nor a lawyer, the well-known Christian missionary and Oriental scholar, the Rev. R. Spence Hardy, who writes as follows in his Jubilee Memorials of the Wesleyan Mission:—"Nearly all the social and political privileges that Englishmen possess at home, the Ceylonese enjoy in this island. In Britain, lives without number have been sacrificed, on the scaffold and elsewhere, by its patriots: tortures of the most appalling character have been endured: and battles may have been fought to secure to its people the freedom they now enjoy, and yet nearly every advantage connected with the birthright of the Briton, thus dearly purchased, is now possessed by the natives of Ceylon and other Colonies, though neither they nor their forefathers ever paid for them a fraction of their property, or endured for them a single privation, or lost one life. The natives who can live on the produce of the coconut tree, and need no more clothing than a rag, to wrap round their loins, for decency rather than dress, would remain slaves as long as the race lasts, all classes exposed to the tyranny of every grade above them, without an effort to better their state, if men who have breathed the rime and braved the snow-storm did not break their fetters and teach them to be free. In all that regards character and comfort, in all things that raise man in the scale of being, in all that takes the rubble from within him and puts soul-ore in its place, the people of Ceylon are favoured with greater helps than have previously been known to any rice-eating nation in the world."

THE VALUE OF THE PLANTATIONS AND ESTABLISHMENTS CONNECTED WITH THE CEYLON PLANTING ENTERPRISE

referred to in the foregoing pages, may be summed up as follows:—The average market value of tea plantations per cultivated acre is very difficult to settle. It varies so much for each district, and so much depends on the particular circumstances of each case whether planted on virgin forest or chena (scrub) land or on old coffee, and in a good or indifferent climate, labour plentiful or scarce, the jāt of the seed used, the cropping after coming into bearing, the extent to which factory room and machinery have been provided. Taking the whole of our tea, young and old, we cannot venture on a higher rate than £40 per acre, though there has been a vast deal of money already spent and the lucky proprietors of plantations at high altitudes, or of medium estates like Mariawatte, would probably scorn an offer of less than three times that sum per acre. The normal allowance for coffee in full bearing used to be, until the price of produce rose some years ago, and land became scarce, £40 per acre. Then comes Rubber with all its buoyancy and promise for which we quote, mostly young, £50 per acre. We shall also have to add for land in private hands available for planting, say at £2 10s. per acre on an average. The result will then be—

Rate of Exchange for Payment of Pensions

Officers of the Ceylon Government on retirement, residing in any part of Asia (except Cyprus) in any rupee-using country, or in any country the currency of which is based on a silver standard, will draw their pensions in the local currency at the current rate of exchange between the country in question and Ceylon or England according as the pension is paid direct by the Ceylon Government or through the Crown Agents. The privilege rates of exchange which certain officers on rupee salaries have been allowed to retain will be payable solely in countries other than those above enumerated.

The following are the rates of exchange for payment of pensions in England:—

- |  | s. | d.  |               |
|--|----|-----|---------------|
| (1) For officers on sterling salary  | 1  | 4   | to the rupee. |
| (2) For officers on rupee salary:—   |    |     |               |
| (a) If appointed not later than February 19, 1897                              | 1  | 10½ | do            |
| (b) If appointed after February 19, 1897, but not later than December 31, 1904 | 1  | 6   | do            |
| (c) If appointed on or after January 1, 1905                                   | 1  | 4   | do            |

The following are exceptions to the above rule:—

- Officers who may be transferred to the Ceylon Service from other silver standard Colonies, and who are at present in those Colonies entitled to a higher rate of exchange than 1s. 6d. the rupee, or 3s. the dollar.
- Officers transferred from Mauritius who were appointed to the service of that Colony before 1887.
- Officers transferred from Hong Kong, the Straits Settlements, or the Native States, whose original appointments date before July 1, 1897.

SUMMARY.

Total Number of Steam and Gas Engines 469; of available Horse-power of the Engines 17,518; number of Practical Engineers 106, of Managers, &c., 90; number of persons employed in preparing and packing Tea, Cocoa, Rubber, Cardamoms, Coconut Oil, Plumbago, and Coir Fibre 7,200; in Plumbago Stores, Iron and Gas Workshops, Steamers, &c., 18,059; total number in Printing Offices 2,250; total number of persons in the Establishments in this table altogether 27,887—or, say, in round numbers (for several minor establishments of different kinds have been omitted) 30,000 persons who find employment during a busy season in the various Mills, Manufactories, and Printing Offices in Colombo, Kandy, Galle and the neighbourhood. Beside the Steam Engines here specified, there is a very large and increasing number in the Planting Districts driving Tea and Rubber Machinery, &c. We need only mention Galaha, Le Vallon, Diyagama, Peradeniya, Meddecombra, Bejawalla, Pallakelle, Kellewatte, Warriapola, Mariawatte and Glen Alpine out of a host of estates on which Steam Engines are found. There is also a large and increasing number of Oil Fuel Engines supplying the motive power in the Tea Factories of the Planting Districts. The power used to drive Tea Rolling and other Machinery in the Planting Districts, especially through Turbines and Waterwheels, as well as Steam and Oil Engines, is now enormous, beside the power utilised in the Engineering Factories in Kandy, Nawalapitiya, Hatton, Dikoya, Dimbula, Kandapola, Uva, &c.

 were in practically a destitute condition, and whose future, if they had not been rescued, would most likely have been amongst the pauper and criminal classes. Instead of which, they have a happy school life for several years, receive a good plain education, are well and carefully instructed in the Christian faith and are taught useful trades to enable them to earn their own livings when school days are over. A limited number of free boys are supported yearly by vote of the subscribers. The school is supported (1) by grant of Rs. 2,500 per annum from Government; (2) subscriptions and donations; and (3) by the earnings of the workshops. The income for the year 1915 was Rs. 15,928-54, and the expenditure Rs. 16,503-86. Orders for bookbinding, carpentry, picture-framing, printing, and bookbinding will be thankfully received.

ROYAL VICTORIA HOME FOR INCURABLES, COLOMBO.—(Facing Campbell's Park. Opened on 13th March, 1888, with seven patients by H. E. Sir Arthur Gordon.) Incorporated under Ordinance No. 7 of 1903. SUPPORTED BY VOLUNTARY CONTRIBUTIONS.—PATRON—H. E. The Governor. LIFE GOVERNOR—F. Croos Palle. COMMITTEE.—The Hon. The Colonial Secretary (Chairman), The Hon. The Principal Civil Medical Officer (Vice-Chairman), The Hon. The Treasurer, The Mayor of Colombo, Lewis Walker, Esq., Major de Wilton, The Hon. Sir A. Wood Renton, Herman A. Looz, Esq., The Hon. Mr. A. Kanagasabai, The Rev. F. L. Baven, Jacob de Mij, Esq., the Rev. L. A. Joseph, J. Rustomjee, Esq., J.P., and F. M. de Saram, Esq. (Honorary Secretary and Treasurer.)

Medical Officer in charge—Dr. E. de la Harpe. Matron—Miss A. Van Dort. No. of beds—80. No. of Patients (average) 60.

This Institution was founded in 1837 in commemoration of the Jubilee of Her Majesty Queen Victoria, and has for its object to provide a comfortable Home with necessary Medical attendance for those inhabitants of Ceylon who by accident or illness have become unable to work for their living, and whose afflictions are of an incurable nature. The need for such provision is only too evident, and the Committee desire to appeal to the people of Ceylon, by whom the Institution was founded, for Donations or Annual or Monthly Subscriptions in aid of the good work that has been commenced by them.

The Institution possesses an Endowment Fund of Rs4,000—producing an assured annual income of Rs1,600. It is further supported by Subscriptions received from the people of Ceylon of all creeds and classes. The funds at present available are, however, so limited that the usefulness of the Institution is unduly restricted. The Government contribute a sum of Rs.5,000 per annum for the maintenance of 30 patients who are certified to be incurable and lying in the Civil hospitals over the Island.

The Victoria Home for Incurables is situated in Borella, in a portion of the building formerly used as a Lunatic Asylum, which has been given over by the Government of Ceylon for the purposes of the Institution. The Home contains on an average sixty inmates, while there is accommodation for eighty. The annual cost of each inmate averages at present about Rs162, but with an increase in the number of inmates, which is dependent entirely on the funds at the disposal of the Committee, the cost per head would be materially diminished, as the fixed charges for Establishment, &c., would not increase in the same ratio that those charges now bear to the cost per head. A Ward to hold blind patients has been added to the Home.

The Home was incorporated by Ordinance in the year 1903. The Institution is in charge of Miss Van Dort, Matron—a trained nurse—and is under the immediate supervision of a Government Medical Officer. Visitors are admitted, and ladies and gentlemen are invited to visit the Institution every day between the hours of 8 A.M. and 6 P.M. and see for themselves its usefulness and good management. They are specially invited to record their names and any remarks they may desire to make in the Visitors' Book which is provided for that purpose. Subscriptions will be received by the Hon. Treasurer or by any member of the Committee. All applications for admission should be addressed to the Hon. Secretary.

VICTORIA MEMORIAL EYE HOSPITAL.—This Hospital was erected, as a Memorial to the late Queen Victoria, by Public Subscription and a Government Grant. It was opened on April 2nd, 1907. The annual number of cases admitted from all parts of the Island, now exceeds 800; estate labourers are admitted as into any district hospital. Consulting Surgeons—Dr. G. J. Rutherford, P. C. M. O. and I. G. H., and Dr. S. C. Paul. Consulting Physician—Dr. F. C. H. Grenier. Surgeon in charge—Dr. Andreas Nell. House Surgeon—Dr. V. A. Goonetilleke. Apothecary—Miss G. Siebel. Matron—Miss Merry. Accommodation: 6 paying beds, 4 of which are in single rooms; 33 male and 18 female beds in Non-paying Wards. The Out-patient Department; transferred from the Regent Street site on August 7th 1905; entrance in Ward Place. Over 10,000 new cases annually. For cases of Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat open daily from 9 a.m. to 12 noon (except on Sundays). On Wednesdays and Saturdays, Dr. A. M. de Silva attends to Out-patients, Ear, Nose and Throat Cases. The Surgeon and House Surgeon of the Eye Hospital attend daily. Both institutions are now maintained by the Civil Medical Department.

ESTATE DIRECTORIES.

CEYLON TEA, RUBBER, CACAO, CARDAMOM, CAMPHOR,
COFFEE (ARABICA AND LIBERIAN), CINCHONA, TOBACCO, COCONUT, CINNAMON, SUGAR AND OTHER PLANTATIONS.

Tea and Rubber Districts.

"Ceylon Observer" Office, January, 1917.

The older Planting Districts are given as named and defined by a Committee of the Planters' Association in 1856. But the great extension of planting within the last sixty years, and especially the Tea and Rubber Industries, called for a rearrangement of certain Districts, so as to settle the boundaries and names of some which were more or less undefined, and the present arrangement has now the advantage of being familiar to the planters and merchants chiefly concerned.

ALPHABETICAL LIST OF THE SIXTY-ONE DIFFERENT PLANTING DISTRICTS.

Alagala (or Kadugannawa North); Ambagamuwa; Badulla; Balangoda (including Bambarabotawa); Dikoya (including Bogawantalawa) Dikoya Lower; Dimbula (including Agrapatana); Dolosbage; Dumbara; Galagedera; Galle (including Udugama); Hantane; Haputale; Haputale West; Hewaheta Upper; Hewaheta Lower; Hunasgiriya; Kadugannawa; Kalutara; Kegalla; (including Polgahawela); Kelani Valley (including Avissawella and Yatiyantota); Kelebokka; Knuckles; Kotmale; Kurunegala; Madulsima and Hewa Eliya (or Badulla North); Maskeliya; Matale East (including Laggala and Kalupahana); Matale North; Matale South; Matale West; Maturata (including Maturata New); Medanahanuwara; Monaragala; Morawak Korale; New Galway; Nilambe; Nitre Cave; Nuwara Eliya; Passara; Puudalnuoya; Pussellawa; Rakwana (including Kukula Korale); Ramboda; Rangala; Ratnapura (including Kurawita); Udapussellawa (including Kandapola); Walapane Lower; Wattegama and Panwila, Yakdessa.—Lowcountry districts with new products:—Batticaloa, Hambantota, Hanwella, Henaratgoda, Labagama, Mahara, Matara, Mirigama, Moratuwa, North-Central Province, Trincomalee (Ganga or Kotiyar,) and Wellawaya.

Under each district is given a list of the estates within its limits, with their usual designations, in English and Tamil; the names of the proprietors or lessees; the agents; the names of the resident managers and assistant superintendents; the total acreage; the planted acreage of each estate; the respective acreage in each product (as well as the total and planted extent of each district, with the post-towns; distances from Telegraph and Railway Stations; and hospitals and dispensaries; also, the approximate elevation of each District above sea-level. The Tamil or Sinhalese names of plantations are found opposite the English names in the several districts; while we retain them embodied in a separate Index, following the English Index, as an additional convenience.

The mileage of each estate from nearest Telegraph, as well as Railway station, and each estate's number in the Cooiy Register for Tin Tickets are given.

In all cases where we have been apprised of the existence of any appreciable acreage of subsidiary products, cinchona, cardamoms, cotton, tobacco or other cultivation on an estate, we have entered the particulars, as far as we were able, in separate columns or with footnotes.

The Estates Directory has been corrected to January 1917, numerous "proofs" having been circulated for that purpose, many hundreds of applications by letter having been made, and due revision having been afforded by Visiting and Colombo Agents. It is, therefore, allowing for changes while printing, as nearly accurate as anything of the kind can be, total accuracy—where changes are occurring daily—being unattainable.

INDEX FOR POST-STATIONS AND PLANTING DISTRICTS.

The following Index will enable anybody knowing the Post-station or Receiving Office of an Estate or Planter to find the Planting District in which it or he is placed. The need of such an index was shown to us by a gentleman mentioning the difficulty he had in finding the name of the District or Estate in which a friend resided, whose post-station was "Deltota." Well-known Post-stations, such as this one, or Lindula, Aranayaka, Elkaduwa, Laggala, Lunugala, &c., have no Districts corresponding in name, and therefore, for new-comers and others, this Index will often be found useful.

The Planting Medical Districts.

The Medical Hospitals and Dispensaries allotted to the different planting districts for the use of coolies have been selected as far as possible with reference to the convenience of each; but they by no means correspond in name with the districts to which they are attached. We have, therefore, placed at the head of each planting district the name and situation of the Hospital and Dispensary which serve for the estates, or majority of estates in that district; indicating, by letters after the names and by notes, Estates which are served by other hospitals and dispensaries. In this way, we hope every Estate Superintendent in the country will be able to tell with what Hospital and Dispensary he is concerned for his coolies.

A Medical Ordinance—entitled “An Ordinance to provide for the medical wants of labourers in this Island”—is in force. It does away with the distinction between tea or coffee and coconut and cinnamon estates, and places all employers of labour on the same footing. Hospitals are provided for such labourers to be sent to and to attend is compulsory if ordered by district medical officers who, however, cannot be required by employers to visit their coolies. The charge in hospital is not to exceed 5 cents a day for each coolie and 1½ cents for each receiving medicine at the dispensary. Beside such payments, the following duties are imposed on all employers of labour under a penalty not exceeding R50:—

- (a) To maintain the lines of his labourers in fair sanitary condition.
- (b) To inform himself of all cases of sickness among his labourers, and to take such steps as he may deem best for the immediate relief of the sick.
- (c) To send labourers to hospital as required by section 6. [On requisition.]
- (d) To inform the district registrar within forty-eight hours of every birth or death among his labourers.
- (e) To supply every female labourer employed and giving birth to a child with sufficient food and lodging for fourteen days after the birth of such child and to take care that the female labourer be not required to work for one month unless the district medical officer shall report sooner that she is fit to work.

Estates, which provide a dispensary building and a dispenser, are entitled to drugs free of charge.

The system of defraying the expenses incurred in carrying the Medical Wants Ordinances into effect was revised and for this purpose a new Ordinance was passed by the Legislative Council on August 3rd, 1910. Under the new Ordinance the expenses are payable out of an Estates' Medical Fund which is composed of—

- a. The proceeds of an EXPORT DUTY on the exportation of TEA, RUBBER, COFFEE, COCOA, CARDAMOMS, COCA, CAMPHOR, PEPPER, and CINCHONA;
- b. Payments and recoveries under sections 15 and 16 of the Ordinance of 1880 for the treatment of labourers in hospital; and
- c. AN ANNUAL CONTRIBUTION FROM PUBLIC REVENUE equal to 15 PER CENT. of the costs of carrying the Ordinance into effect during the preceding year.

The Bill provides for the levy of export duties upon the products named in the preceding paragraph (a) at such rates as are considered sufficient to cover the cost of carrying into effect the Medical Wants Ordinances during a period of three years after deducting the annual contribution of 15 per cent from Government. In preparing his statement of the annual cost of the administration of the Ordinances, the Treasurer is directed to bring to account expenditure on buildings, &c., by including in each annual statement such an amount as would be sufficient to liquidate the capital expenditure with interest at 4 per cent in 25 annual instalments. The Bill provides for the creation of a Medical Wants Committee consisting of the Colonial Secretary, the Principal Civil Medical Officer, the Government Agent of the Central Province, and two members nominated by the Planters' Association. The Medical Wants Committee will advise the Governor as regards the construction of hospitals and dispensaries, and generally on matters connected with the administration of the Ordinances. The Medical Wants Committee may allow proprietors who have made provision to the satisfaction of the Principal Civil Medical Officer a rebate of the duty on the produce of their estates. The allowance of the rebate is subject to rules to be made by the Committee and confirmed by the Governor.

Le Cocq, S. D. in Dikoya 56 years ago, wrote in reply to an inquiry:—"Alexander Horsburgh Davidson, familiarly known as The Squatter, was the first European resident in Dikoya, he having planted that estate. Later on he purchased a block of forest, now the Hatton estate, and he gave it that name, after a place of that name in Scotland (in Aberdeenshire, a postal station.—COMPILER). That belonged to the Davidson family; he got the coolies to call it Topee Totum—Topee, as you know, being the Tamil for 'Hat.' Dikoya is, I believe, quite incorrect, and should have been Deeg Oya or the long river." † Post and Telegraph Office on the estate; Railway Station at Hatton, 14 miles.

GENERAL DIRECTORY.

N.B.—In consulting the following list for the names of Sinhalese and other non-European classes, there are a few points which must be kept specially in view, with reference to the different modes of spelling the same name by different persons. For instance, we have “Silva” and “Sylva,” “Zilva” and “Zylva,” with or without the prefix “De,” which seems to be applied or not according to the taste of each individual. It is impossible, therefore, to lay down any clear rule; accordingly, although the vast majority are entered as “de Silva,” yet there are some “Silvās” and one or two other forms given. If, therefore, the name sought is not found under “De,” S and Z must be tried. The same remark applies to several other native or asiatic names. One man will spell his name “Peiris,” or “Pieris,” another “Peris”; one gives “Pereira,” another “Perera.” So with “Alwis” and “Alvis,” the former used often with the prefix “de”; while “Goonewardene,” “Gooneratne,” “Goonesekero” and “Mooonesinha” are written as “Goonawardana,” “Goonaratna,” “Goonasekara,” and “Munasinha” respectively, for no particular reason, but according to “the taste and fancy of the speller.” The letters C G and K are often interchangeable. Keeping these hints in view, however, there ought not to be much difficulty in finding the names and addresses of natives or asiatics even while as regards Europeans everything will, of course, be clear.

☞ Most of the following pages of the General Directory have been corrected up to March, 1917. In some cases we have anticipated an approaching change on address, but allowance must be made for changes that have taken place while the pages were passing through the press.

ABBREVIATIONS.

An explanation of the contractions attached to some of the names may be necessary:—“B.A.,” “M.A.,” “F.R.S.,” “F.L.S.,” “P.R.G.S.,” “M.D.,” “J.P.,” “R.E.,” “R.A.,” “C.K.,” of course, require no elucidation; but it may be necessary to state that the letters:—

POST OFFICES IN SOUTH INDIA.

LIST OF POST OFFICES IN THE SPECIAL COOLY DISTRICTS OF THE MADRAS PRESIDENCY AND SOUTH INDIA.

EXPLANATION OF ENTRIES IN COLUMNS

Column 1 contains the name of the Post Office. In this column capital letters are used to denote Head Offices; thus, MADURA.

Small capital letters are used to denote Sub-Offices; thus, DINDIGUL.

Ordinary type is used to denote Branch Offices; thus, Nollakota.

The abbreviation—M. denotes that the office can issue and pay money orders.

M.* denotes that the office can issue—but cannot pay—money-orders. Ordinary money-orders for it will be paid by the office named in column 2.

The absence of M. or M.* denotes that the office can neither issue nor pay money orders. When the name of a station is given, ordinary money-orders for the office in column 1 will be paid by the Post Office at that station; and when no station is given, ordinary money-orders for the office in column 1 will be paid by the office first above it printed in large or small capitals.

T. denotes that telegraphic money-orders may be advised direct to the office named in column 2.
